Medical Device Licensed Products for Dry Eye Syndrome Treatment NURIEYE-5800

Established in 1996, Seodong Medical, a company specializing in dry eye treatment medical devices that has been researching and developing only dry eye treatment medical devices, makes products with trust and belief.

NURIEYE-5800 improves nerve, blood vessel and lachrymal glands, interlobular ducts by gently relaxing the skin muscles around the eyes with vibration, air pressure, and heat massage when the nerves, blood vessels, lacrimal glands, and tear ducts are blocked due to the hardening of the skin muscles around the eyes. In addition, warm heating massage melts dust and foreign substances in the eyeballs and fat secretions that have hardened in the meibomian glands located inside the eyelids, release them outside, and wash them with clean tears. Then, the eyes brighten and
